New D 'n' B Releases

LUCKYDEVIL004 Forget Tomorrow - Survival / Zyon Base Lucky Devil 12" Vinyl

Lucky Devil is proud to welcome two of our favourite producers of the moment to the fold. Steve Survival's production and engineering skills are envied by anyone out there who's making music. Famed for his mixdowns, this man knows how to bring every element out of his tracks perfectly. Zyon Base hails from Belfast, home of Calibre, Zero Tolerance and and this guy is most certainly one to watch for the future. Forget Tomorrow is a chunky, relentless piece of future music that has been cutting holes in dancefloors and getting much love from all of the usual suspects. Beginning with a crisp drum roll backed by some subtle atmospherics this track develops into an amen-led killer, with some incredible basswork. Original, retrospective and futuristic. Pure Lucky Devil vibes. The Wire is one of those rare tracks that manages to balance the soulful with an edge that make it work on the floor. Melancholy piano samples and a haunting blues vocal combine with some tight breaks and a roaring b-line that gets straight down to business. We love this one...

EXIT012 The Gemini Principle Part II 12" Album Sampler. - D Bridge Exit Records 12" Vinyl

Following on from The Gemini Principle Part I, and prequel to The Gemini Principle Album, we have the second album sampler which contains two more tracks from D Bridge. A: The Simplest thing. This track is a fine example of D Bridges versatility. Chanting, reassuring vocals set the groove as the rock solid kick and snare march in and take over to set the pace. Just as you think your keeping up, he flicks on his trusty womp oscillator, shakes you off his tail and slips away into the valley of the unknown. Stepping beats and soul warming low end bump you across the finish line, but trust me, you'll want to play it again. AA: The Fortunate Fool. Once again, D Bridges trademark drum grooves and cinematic atmospheres simmer you into a trance before easing in the bass and slowly turning up the heat. Minimal and unnerving sound effects create a sense of paranoia and suspense whilst the ever-changing bassline growls away like a tormented wild beast trapped in a cage. This will get you gritting your teeth and clenching your fists as you feel the uncontrollable rage taking over ....not for the faint hearted.

New Dubstep Promos

HFT002 Losing Marbles - TRG & Dub U Hotflush Recordings 12" Vinyl

Finish copy promo. The second release on Hotflush offshoot label HF2 comes in the shape of a collaboration between the prolific Romanian producer, TRG, and a new name from across the pond, Dub U, plus a remix from one of the most exciting talents to emerge in bass music recently, 2562. The original is a 3:2 reducer, drenched in delays, crunching percussion and floating effects. This is the sound of two producers experimenting with contrasting influences, as sub bass collides with techno sensibilities to create something a bit different. On the flip, 2562 produces another stormer to add to his already impressive discography. Adding his trademark garage influence to the minimised vision of the original, the result is a dubbed out dancefloor killer which has been shaking out clubs from Bristol to Berlin in the last few months.

SCAR01 Aerosol Bastards EP - Deleta Sub Carnage 10" Vinyl

Very limited finish copy promos. DELETA aka DJ Bazooka is the label boss of this new dubstep label catering to the darker, harder side of dubstep. Bazooka is also behind Berlin's most ferocious and unapologetic drum'n'bass label Aural Carnage. With an almost vampiric hunger for the tastes of hip-hop, ragga, jungle, metal, reggae, dub and graffiti DELETA has spawned nothing but gut-wrenching and unforgettable tracks. First up on the A-side is the pirate anthem 'R.O.B.O.T.' with the relentless hydraulic crunch of a malignant lead-footed robot wielding bass as it's weapon. R.O.B.O.T. manages to keep the skank to keep it all moving, but don't be fooled, Lurking on the other side of this dark valley is the pitch black dancehall monster 'Murderah' featuring the vocal executions of Bounty Killer and Elephant Man. 'Murderah' stomps through the dance floor and makes the rude boys step up their game!! Having previously worked with Daddy Freddy, this track cements DELETA's talents with ragga mcs. This heavyweight 10" has been getting plays from the all the usual players: NType, Headhunter, Darkside - "Big up Sub Carnage! Some serious material coming from you guys right now!...I ensured this was smashed on my Rinse FM show....it caused destruction!" has also been getting attention from some other quarters, namely DJ Food - "crushingly twisted dubstep seemingly made by a giant automaton brought up on a diet of LFO and Test Dept." and The Bug. Rejecting the usual tight lipped text-only release, This release comes in a full colour sleeve created by Fuziak and Bazooka reflecting the frantic creations of a graffer's sketchbook.
