New D&B Releases

EXIT025 Exit Records Presents 'Mosaic Vol 1' Sampler 1 - Various Artists Exit Records 12" Vinyl

Exit Records Presents 'Mosaic Vol 1' Sampler 1. With so much good music arriving in the Exit inbox it was decided that a various artist project was needed to ensure that it all sees the light of day and doesn't get caught up in a never ending schedule of singles. As normal with Exit Records, there's no prejudice in the track selection. This album truly represents the more experimental side of Drum and Bass as opposed to the crash bang wollop which seems to be the only side of Drum and Bass portrayed by the mainstream media today. Hopefully this album will manage to reach the people that thought this forward thinking music was left behind in the nineties and let them know that it's still alive and well and still capable of throwing up some surprising and unpredictable results.

CRIT051 Aria EP - Rockwell Critical Music 12" Vinyl x 2

Rockwell's rise to prominence as a rare, distinctive talent has been exciting the electronica music circuit the world over. Critical, thankfully, being the trusty forefront for all things audio-aesthetically delicious, presents the 'Aria EP' - 4 tracks of sound sublime, exemplifying Rockwell's refreshing angle on energy in the club combined with the characteristic, meticulously playful technicals, precise and thrilling as ever.

The charmingly rustic intro of 'Aria' unleashes striking Flinstones-esque wooden triplets, scaling the track as stirring vocals weave through; haunting and uplifting at once, the title-track exudes sheer class. Slightly more buoyant, 'Live For The Moment' infuses an energetic tempo with profusions of ear-carressing funk and those ever-characteristic percussive twists - naughty all over. Swiftly plunged into apocalyptic darkness, the Ulterior Motive boys take a sinister liking to 'Noir'. Distinctly menacing and genuinely frightening, what better to bully the atmosphere than Hell-raising bass and staccato violins. Listen out for the breakdown bass - horrific and enriching, this track is dark by Devil's definition. Icing on the cake collaboration with underground legend Untold comes in the form of 'Rehoku Sunrise', a tribal earthy worldly masterpiece of running drums and raw, wild samples, glazing the soul in bliss. Bellissimo.

TRIPS004 Brainedrain / Frozen Still - Silent Witness Triple Seed 12" Vinyl

A. Silent Witness - Brainedrain opens up with an uplifting sound scape of lush chords, tight beats, and bass growls that rises up to a devastating drop of titan like proportions. Drums and bass dance with each other along the way, taking in turn-around tripwires and reverb bombs. It eventually settles with a break down consisting of twisted pitch drops and euphoric anticipation. The second drop then kicks in with a different twist on the bass frenzy witnessed earlier. Simply Disgusting. AA. Silent Witness - Frozen Still still harks back to the vibes of jungle with an eerie wash amidst classic stabs and vocal snippets. This sound is updated with contemporary minimal drums, exciting rhythmic frills, and a rolling sub bass designed to smother everyone in the Silent Witness ether. Bass stabs and moody pads prevail with time stretched fills electrocuting all in its path. Dangerous business! DJ Support: Klute, Break, Survival, Ant C, Fierce, Noisia, Silver, Vicious Circle, Cause 4 Concern, Friction.

PRSPCT012 The Spell / Code Of Chaos - Current Value PRSPCT 12" Vinyl

Like a highspeed battle tank PRSPCT Recordings storms back to the scene with an obvious buy on sight record.. Current Value is finally up for his very own PRSPCT release and again he knows how to devastate the very ground he's walking on.. By teaming up with Snow & Nanotek he's upgraded the CV sound.. as always..

The release sets off with 'The Spell' a mystical industrial roller.. Imagine a warehouse filled with Santa's elves working on high quality beats all cute and cuddly.. Only to be plowed down in one foul swoop by CV's bulldozing mechanical bass lines leaving destruction, chaos and dead elf bodies.. Painting the halls red with blood!

Flip it over for 'Code Of Chaos' for another heavy duty roller.. This one is a bit more stripped down but that doesn't mean this one is 'Minimal'.. Pounding rattling beats infused with deadly tech bleeps. A sure shot when it comes to testing out the rig.. Drums & Bases.. as DnB was intended!

INMIN002 Covered By The Dust EP - Various Artists Influenza Media 12" Vinyl x 2

Unquote and Mr. Sizef are two upcoming producers hailing from St. Petersburg, Russia. Their deep, abstract and creative approach (tune names included) have earned them releases on such highly praised labels as Hospital, Med School, Liquid Brilliant, Absys, Blu Saphir and Basswerk. Having a bright future in front of them, these two are taking atmospheric drum 'n bass to another level.

A-SIDE: BLUE MOTION & UNQUOTE - COVERED BY THE DUST Fans of the Russian duo, Subwave will be immediately drawn to the dust. Blue Motion teams up with Unquote for this atmospheric masterpiece. Blissful pads, a catchy electronic riff, and crescendoing bass creates the introduction, before wading into an early break. Intricate drum patterns articulate the center of the track, bringing with it deep, rumbling bass and a simplified female vocal. It's not long before the second break hits, and the track's formula starts again. Try to listen to this one all the way through. You won't be disappointed.

B-SIDE: MR. SIZEF - 170 STEPS OF LONELINESS Where do these 170 steps lead? Would the siren in the intro be any indication? As the sweet, pitched-up female vocal rolls through alongside a slightly distorted synth riff, the bass comes flanging in with a galloping sort of feel before all of the elements come together for some great, traditional drum 'n bass. Great use of effects on this one.

C-SIDE: MR. SIZEF - LILY IS A FLOWER WHICH IS GIVING RISE TO LOVE Heavy bass and female chant samples accompany a tribal drum style to introduce this beauty. The drums filter in alongside multi-layered pads. A short break rides through right away, but it isn't long before the sophisticated rhythm and chopped up vocal come back around. This tune would make a wonderful set closer.

D-SIDE: UNQUOTE - WE BREATHE YOGHURT LYING ON A STRAWBERRY BED One would be curious as to what a track such as this one would sound like. Images and visuals floating through your head as you press play; the airy, angelic pad intro induces you into a trance-like state before soothing piano lines and a pitched-up vocal reminiscent of the early hardcore era takes you away. As the drums come in with a half-time feel, it is easy to imagine Japanese taiko drummers playing their part.

Following on from last year's impossibly good The Love Quadrant EP by Space Dimension Controller, Kinnego Records return with two tracks from label owner Boxcutter, his first new material since the Arecibo Message album on Planet Mu. "Moon Pupils" is a gentle, trippy bit of 2-step, full of tweaked analogue melodies and tape echoed flute. On the flip, Boxcutter & Kab Driver take inspiration from vintage library music and dubbed out disco. "2Time" is all handclaps and insistent synth chords, with two woozy string-led breakdowns. LD's sound is his own. Drawing on his roots, you can hear the drum pan sounds of Jamaica resonating throughout, flashes of Soca drums, subtle tribal nuances, and the ghost of Jungle reverberating in the warm, pulsating sub bass. MR011 Flying Saucer (Ft Roska & J Kenzo Remixes) - Jamie George Roska Kicks & Snares 12" Vinyl Roska's Kicks and Snares/RKS is back with another big release, and this time it comes courtesy of Jamie George with the hotly anticipated Flying Saucer. First picked up by DJ Oneman, making it a feature on his Rinse mix cd, support for this track has grown and grown with well known acts such as Toddla T, Hot Chip and Tomb Crew repping it hard. Combining elements of UKG, House and Dubstep Jamie has created an instant classic that has worked hard to earn this release and the plays of DJ's all across the country. Roska himself steps up with the first remix, a re-imagining with special attention on the percussion, elements of tribal and dancehall peel back the layers of the original in the way that only a talented minimalist like Roska can. With his speciality lying in the truly funky Roska drops a mix that literally drags you up to your feet and pushes you harder the longer it's played. J Kenzo, of Dub Police fame, completes the package with a much darker, harder affair. You get the impression he took the original track and made it watch the entire Saw series back to back with Halloween then sent it back scarred forever. In all seriousness Kenzo has a real talent for creating dark, bass driven tracks and he has expanding on that here adding heavy portions of electro and old school to compose a truly original mix. Check them out and get back to us.

ZAUDIO022 Hangin - Genetix Z Audio 12" Vinyl

This young talented duo is showing us how the heavier side of Dubstep should be done! You can really hear from their productions that they know their way around the studio and when you play some of Genetix tunes on a big system, make sure you put up some health hazard signs! Death by subs is a high possibility. Okay, on to the tunes! "Hangin'" is just one of those tunes to watch out for. It will blow your chest up with bass, make the hairs stand up on the back of your neck and possibly wet yourself with excitement. That's only if you're lucky though. Then we have "Trigger Happy" featuring Persist whose name I seem to be coming across quite a bit at the moment. This tune is great and can't really choose between this and "Hangin'". Both are insane! Then last but not least is "Sci Tech" which is on the deeper side. Great tune and a nice way to round off this great EP!

HF026 Fleur EP - Sepalcure Hotflush Recordings 12" Vinyl

Following the release of their stunning summer debut EP 'Love Pressure', Sepalcure – a Brooklyn-based duo composed of Travis Stewart and Praveen Sharma – have announced their second EP featuring four brand new cuts, due for release in late January 2011 on Hotflush Recordings. Having produced for years individually as Machinedrum (LuckyMe) and Praveen (of Praveen & Benoît), their new collaboration breathes a new life of its own, reflected in its distinctive, lush sonic warmth and a refreshing style of composition that is as equally fitting on the dancefloor as it is in the comfort of one's home. The Fleur EP shows a progression of Sepalcure's depth of field, weaving distant chords, soulful vocals, and organic rhythms into vibrant, immersive soundscapes, with echoes of house, techno, and dubstep within. Be it the gentle melodies of "Fleur", the ascendant effervescence of "Your Love", the relentless bass of "No Think", or the suspending ambience of "Inside", it is a sound that is unmistakably Sepalcure. Their live performances have been gaining steam over the last year, beginning with appearances at Unsound Festival, Dub War NYC, and The Bunker, followed by a live showcase at Portland's Decibel Festival in September, they are set to embark on their first European tour with other Hotflush artists this December. They have also composed an original track in Darren Aronofsky's new film Black Swan, in theatres starting December 2010.

IBR005 Tax Haven I - Various Artists Iberian 12" Vinyl

Iberian records comes out of a hibernation period with the a series of "Tax Haven" EPs. This first EP comes from a group of producers located in the Barcelona bass enclave and who have been some of the main players in the monthly B.LOW events there. Dedicated to what the label describes as Bass'n'Groove, this EP contains three varied and original sounding tunes with different Bpms suited to the leftfield of various bass music fields (dubstep/funky/future garage etc). First up sees Mr. Gasparov's "Transient Love" come in the guise of a house influenced little gem of a tune featuring Japanese vocalist G.Rina (who has previously worked with RSD and Nicolette) who cooes and whispers about transient lovers. Those of you already acquainted with Mr. Gasparov with his release on Soul Jazz Records "Steppas Delight 2" compilation will recognize the attention to subtle melodic play. There is an overall summery vibe coming here - so something to warm us all up with and make us look ahead to brighter days. Accompany with a mojito and some afternoon sun!

Next up sees Nehuen's "Between Love and Hate" which is a tense stripped down bass'n'beat workout with a persistant bass riff and schizoid strings bringing the darkness. Nehuen is an artist that usually getting support from Dusk + Blackdowns Rinse radio show. There is a grimy and ruff feel here not to dissimilar to some Soulja releases from back in the day. Tuff steppas gear.

On the 45rpm flip side Relocate come with their trademark relentness sub bass boogie on "Soul Survivor". Opening with live drum rolls and low end throbs the tune drops into a driving heads down rhythm, laced with swinging ruff arse beats and a frustrated female vocal hook on the drop - "That I just came..." After which the rhythm section pounds away trying to please her! This is a souped up turbo garage workout pimped for the floor and primed for the bassbins.

BASECORRUPT11 Open Space (Matt Green Remix) - Matt Green / D-Formed - Ft. Fused Forces Base Corrupt 12" Vinyl

SUBWAY015 When I First Met You EP - DJ Madd Subway 12" Vinyl

Dj Madd has been a known face within the dubstep scene for while now.. his releases on Blackbox, War, Boka, Tube10 have been getting massive support.. But his subway debut is probably his best work yet! "When I First Met You" is the epic cut here.. massive basslines & euphoric strings have dubbed this DJ Madd's best outing yet.. Garage, Dubstep call what you wanna call it we're in love with this one.. "Got Me Dancing" shows Madd on a 8 bit tip.. dont be mistaken by the cute exterior cause once this bassline drops your in for a world of hurt.. chest hurt that is.. This one will rattle everything in sight! Speaking about rattling.. "Babylon" takes that to the next level.. ever played on a big rig and getting a massage at the same time? no? well but on babylon and feel everything tremble.. This one is just one of those records that lets you know what dubstep was all about from the beginning.. RATTLIN BIZ!
